Harnessing the Transformative Power of Education

International Seminar Workshop on Recalibrating Distance Education for the Next Normal

Rationale: Rapid advances in information and communications technology in the digital age have brought about significant changes in the practice of distance education (DE) worldwide. (Arinto, 2016) Braving the adverse effect of the spread of COVID19 virus in the country forced the education sector to be digital immigrants. Doing instruction and assessment in distance learning environment posed numerous challenges to school stakeholders especially to teachers, learners and even to their parents. This seminar-workshop is geared to bring new perspectives on how to overcome these challenges.

Session topics:

1. Supporting Distance Learners
2. Recalibrating ODL Practices using Design Thinking
3. Exploring Opportunities in Distance Education for Action Research
4. Learning Modification and Interventions in Distance Education
5. Breakout Sessions for Specific Subject Areas

International Seminar Workshop on Leadership for Non-Teaching Personnel for the Better Normal

Rationale: UNESCO defined non-teaching staff as persons employed by educational institutions who have no instructional responsibilities. Although the definition can vary from one country to another, undeniably they are vital in the success of the school operations. As we continuously thrive amidst the pandemic, the non-teaching staff are confronted with various challenges to deliver their services efficiently and effectively. This seminar is geared towards strengthening soft-skills useful in successfully accomplishing office tasks and clearly manifesting DEPED core values, mission and vision.

Session topics:

1. Professional Development: Navigating the Future of Work
2. Use of Social Emotional Learning in the Workplace
3. Conflict Resolution in the Workplace: Techniques and Strategies
4. Professional Integrity: A Key Quality of Effective Manager
5. Unpacking Situational Leadership addressing Crisis Management
